City clerk takes Bay school slot

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Bay St. Louis City Clerk Kelly McQueen will resign his present position to become the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District's business manager.

McQueen decided to accept the position after a special meeting with the City Council late Wednesday afternoon.

At a Monday night meeting the district's Board of Trustees accepted a recommendation by Superintendent of Education J.D. McCullough to hire McQueen at $20,000 per year beginning Nov. 1.

At a board meeting last month, McCullough recommended the board hire Richard (Dick) Thomas, manager of Moore and Powell Certified Public Accountants Bay St. Louis office, but Trustee Walter Turcott reminded the superintendent, the board had previously voted to review all applicants. The board amended the minutes to reflect that fact.

However Monday night, Turcott offered a motion to hire Thomas which died due to lack of a second.

Then Board President Virginia Gex asked McCullough, "Do you have another recommendation after considering the eight applicants?"

McCullough recommended McQueen and the board voted unanimously to accept the recommendation.

McQueen said early Tuesday morning, "I didn't have any idea I would be chosen for the position."

"I did give McCullough a resume, but I didn't think I had the best chance to be selected for the position," he added.

The city clerk said he met with McCullough later Tuesday to discuss a date he would begin his duties with the district.

"He mentioned a beginning date of Nov. 1, but that may be too early because I have some unfinished business here at city hall," McQueen stated.

"That's the date the board wanted me to begin, but I would like to see if they could possibly wait until Nov. 15," he added.

WAVE POOL ATTENDANCE

The Mississippi Department of Economic Development's Division of Tourism has termed the first year of operation of the Buccaneer State Park Wave Pool in Waveland "one of the big attractions on the Coast." Park Manager Greg Smith said in 102 days of operation this year, the pool drew almost 42,000 swimmers.

STUDENT TO REPRESENT STATE—Hancock County Superintendent of Education Billy D. Sills congratulates Hancock North Central High School Band Member Lisa Necaise, center, and the girl's Mother Lillie Mae Necaise of the Rocky Hill Community. The student was recently selected as one of two Mississippi high school musicians to represent the state as a member of the McDonald's All-American High School Band which will march in Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and perform in Carnegie Hall in New York City. The young clarinetist will also have an opportunity to audition for musical studies scholarships offered by several institutions. McDonald's Corp. will pay basic expenses for the trip. HNC Band Director Catchie Choina of Bay St. Louis recommended Lillie for the band program. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Architect cites flaws in Gulfview roof job

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Hancock County School District Architect John Mykolyk of Pass Christian has found six deficiencies in a roof recently replaced at Gulfview Elementary School.

The roof was replaced after a tornado last spring heavily damaged the Lakeshore school.

School Board President Woodrow Ladner read a list at a Saturday meeting of six items Mykolyk noted in a Oct. 7 inspection of the reroofing work.

The architect's written report lists:
—The main classroom building's caulking at skylights show evidence of cracking. Mykolyk recommends installation of heavy elastomeric membrane;
—Two vent caps missing on cafeteria building;
—Edge of roofing on cafeteria (at canopy location) requires sealant to close space between foam and metal fascia;
—Metal fascia cover plates need to be sealed in place with Dow-Corning sealant. Caulking at cafeteria fascia is chipping off;
—Canopy roof is holding water. Some 'sponginess' was noted. Also blister;
—Low spots on main classroom building which show 'alligatoring' need to be repaired.

The report was addressed to Larry Tully of MIRI Roofing Co. of Long Beach.

Ladner noted Saturday the district had retained a portion of the total payment in the event of problems with the roofing.

Superintendent of Education Billy D. Sills said Tuesday the total cost of the reroofing work was $52,375 of which 10 percent was retained.

In other business at the 9 a.m. meeting at the Dan M. Russell Sr. Memorial Youth Court Building in Bay St. Louis, the board:

—Authorized bid advertisement for the purchase of a new or rebuilt engine for a district pickup truck utilized at Gulfview;

—Authorized an extended leave of absence for Rise Dosssett who is employed Hancock North Central High School;

—Authorized payment of expenses for the district's cafeteria supervisor and managers to attend a Mississippi School Food Service Association Annual Convention Nov. 7-9;

—Authorized payment of expenses for board members and the superintendent to attend a Coast School Board Association meeting at St. Martin High School in Iberville at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 23;

—Approved meeting in executive session to discuss docket items;

—Accepted the resignation of bus driver Glenda Chausson effective Oct. 10;

—Accepted a recommendation by Sills to hire Mary Griffin as bus driver for the remainder of 1980-81 school year;

—Accepted a recommendation by Sills to employ Sheila A. Freeman as fifth-grade teacher at Gulfview for the remainder of the 1980-1981 school year;

—Tabled a written request by 16th Section Land Manager Terry Randolph to cancel an approximate three-acre residential lease with Willie Burnes in Section 24-6-16 and lease the same parcel to Jeff Ware for 25 years at $151 per year;

—Tabled a request by school patron Lillie Necaise for the board to pay expenses for HNC Band Director Catchie Choina to travel to New York City with student Lisa Necaise. Lisa Necaise is one of two Mississippi students selected for the McDonald's All-American High School Band which will perform in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Council approves zoning permit

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Bay St. Louis Council in a recess meeting accepted the recommendation of its Zoning and Planning Commission to give a single use permit to Mrs. R. J. Sallinger for a parcel of land on Longfellow Drive.

The single use permit will enable Mrs. Sallinger to open a bridal consultant service on the property now zoned residential.

The permit will enable use of the property for the specified business only, council was informed by board attorney Joseph Gex.

Councilman Fred Wagner stated, "In view of the fact there are already commercial businesses adjacent to the property, I accept the recommendation of the Zoning and Planning Commission."

Bob Genin, attorney, representing

Mrs. Sallinger, presented the council with a petition signed by the majority of the property owners living in the area, in favor of the change.

Only objection came from Mr. and Mrs. Clavin Smith who owns a lot on Lincoln Drive.

Mrs. Smith stated, "I am not going to have wall to wall parking on my street," and someone said, "you already have it."

It was mentioned that the Smith's had a for sale sign placed on their lot, but they reported they were now going to build.

In other carried over business, the Council accepted a resolution to install a fencing around the two windmills at the two Bay St. Louis municipal schools.

Councilman James Thriffley said that it was only four foot by four by six foot high with some barbed wire.

Harry Farve, vice-president presiding at the meeting, questioned as to where the funds were coming from for the payment of the fence.

Council passed on the motion for Mayor Larry Bennett to be authorized to sign the agreement with the school system, and also for the payment of transportation of the windmills. The windmill transportation money would come out of the grant, it was noted.

Gex advised the Council that a member of the Parks and Playgrounds called to report that in the renovation of the basketball courts at the Valena C. Jones gym, some rotten boards were found and needed to be replaced before the refinishing could be done.

Gex said, "The estimated cost would be about $2,000 for the repairs and the cost of the contract is $4,000 for the re-finish work."

A motion was made to have the Parks and Playgrounds Commission get three letter bids and go ahead with the repairs. It was noted the cost was going to come out of their budget.

CLOTHES DRYER DESTROYED—Inspecting a butane dryer and clothing destroyed by fire early Monday afternoon at the home of Harold and Betty Necaise in the Fenton Community are, from left, Bertha Necaise of Fenton, Kiln Volunteer Fire Department Secretary-Treasurer Gene Ramsey, Betty Necaise, and Diamondhead Assistant Fire Chief Don San Filippo. Betty Necaise reported spotting the fire at about 1 p.m., told her mother-in-law (Bertha Necaise who was visiting) to get out of the house, cut off the house's electricity and butane, opened the back door near the blaze and began fighting the fire with a garden hose. Bertha Necaise ran across the street and brought her husband (Laurent Necaise), who also began fighting the blaze with a home fire extinguisher. Laurent and Betty Necaise both received cuts on their arms after breaking windows with their bare hands to fight the blaze. San Filippo said Betty and Laurent Necaise's quick action avoided serious damage to the home. The fire was quickly extinguished by the Diamondhead Fire Department. The assistant fire chief estimated the residence sustained approximately $200 damage and noted the burning polyester clothing in the dryer had filled the home with cyanide gas. Also responding to the blaze were Diamondhead Fire Department Capt. Rodney Agusta, Fire Rescue Technician Pam San Filippo and Deputy Chief Richard Pate; and Fireman Kenneth Fayard Jr. of the Waveland Fire Department. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Mt. St. Helens Erupts

Volcano devastation enormous, but scientists expect recovery

In the area around Washington's Mount St. Helens, the future looks bleak. As a result of the volcano's devastating eruptions, more than 70 people died or disappeared, 240 miles of woodland were obliterated, 26 lakes were destroyed, nearly 11 million fish and 1.5 million other animals were wiped out. The losses, estimated at more than $1 billion, are hard to exaggerate and the short-term prognosis seems grim. But according to National Wildlife magazine, some scientists foresee "some positive long-range effects" of the blasts after nature has worked to restore the area. Among them:

-Volcanic ash will eventually enrich the soil and some new plant species will probably appear.

-Changes in wildlife habitat should enhance the populations of many creatures. For example, the mountain bluebird, which is attracted to snagged trees, is expected to flourish.

-Scientists will have, as one of them put it, "a rare opportunity to see how the earth regenerates itself...in some places, everything must start all over again."

And finally, not listed by the scientists, but noted by Washington State business leaders, the area will become a tourist attraction.

The U.S. Forest Service reported more than 4,000 daily visitors to the Mount St. Helens area in August.

Meanwhile, scientists are looking for signs that the area around Mount St. Helens is beginning to heal.

According to the report in the current issue of National Wildlife on the volcano's effects, some insect populations—vital links in the food chain—are already showing signs of recovery.

And U.S. Forest Service biologist Bill Ruediger told the National Wildlife Federation's bimonthly publication that he believes deer and elk will return to the region rather quickly, "particularly around the edges of the blast zone where there is adequate cover."

While Washington officials mourn the devastation of the 145-mile Toutle River, one of the few remaining undammed rivers in the Northwest, they feel sure that the river's flow will return to normal and its huge population of salmon and trout will return.

Biologists have discovered that some salmon have already navigated through the high levels of silt in the Cowlitz River—another waterway that was severely damaged.

One factor which makes scientists optimistic about the damaged region's recovery is history.

"In geologic terms," explains National Wildlife, "Mount St. Helens is a relatively young volcano, just one in a string of 15 major ones in the Cascade range that runs from British Columbia to northern California."

During the past 200 years, eight of these mountains have erupted; the most recent was California's Mount Lassen, which blew more than 170 times between 1914 and 1921.

Periodically, these mountain peaks have poured vast rivers of mud into surrounding areas. One such mudflow descended Mount Rainier about 600 years ago, smothering the Puyallup River.

When the first white explorers arrived in western Washington 400 years later, the Puyallup was stocked with chinook, steelhead, cutthroat, and coho. And its banks were crowded with big timber.

So the Puyallup did recover. "And the same thing will happen around Mount St. Helens," Washington Department of Game official Jon Gilstrom assured National Wildlife.

Until then, scientists will be watching carefully. "We're going to learn how to plan ahead for such blasts, how to

by Ed Curran
U.S. Department of Agriculture

They are saying that continued tight credit and high interest rates are expected to dampen the increase in farmland values this year. If it turns out that way, it'll be a real switch. Because, farmland values moved up 14 percent—right on target—last year. That's been the average rate of increase since 1975.

Which means that farmland values have more than doubled in the past five years and have tripled since 1970. Ten years ago, U.S. farmland averaged only $196 an acre. Five years ago, it averaged only $302 an acre. Last year, it was up to $559. Now, it's averaging $640 an acre.

The big question, now is where have the sharpest increases come over the past 10 years? The East? The Midwest? The South? The Mountain States? Actually, all are good bets. The East has the big prices per acre; the Delta States have had dramatic price gains in recent years; and the Mountain States used to have cheap land—and it isn't cheap, now.

Actually, the correct answer is "None of the above." For, the big gains over the past decade have come in the Corn Belt States, where prices are now more than four times what they were just 10 years ago.

Of course, the Northeast still leads in high prices farmland. Farmland averages $1,479 an acre in Massachusetts, $1,370 in Pennsylvania, $2,018 an only three-times its 1970 value.

Sharpest rises last year were in the Delta States. Farmland value went up 29 percent—from $763 to $984 an acre—in Louisiana; 21 percent an acre—from $520 to $629—in Mississippi; and 20 percent—from $691 to $829 an acre in Arkansas last year. But, those prices are barely three-times their 1970 averages.

They've also moved up sharply in the Mountain States. But, Colorado's which now averages $388 an acre, is the only one that's four-times that of a decade earlier.

On the other hand, Ohio's land, now valued at an average of $1,713 an acre, is 4-1/5 that of the $406 it averaged a decade ago. Illinois' land, now averaging $1,929 an acre, is four-times its 1970 value of $490. Iowa's land, now valued at $1,706 an acre, is 4-1/3 times that of the $392 it averaged in 1970. Missouri's land, valued at only $244 an acre in 1970, is now averaging $816, a nearly four-fold increase.

A breakdown of those Corn Belt state prices shows they increased 13 percent from a year ago in Ohio, 22 percent in Indiana, 8 percent in Illinois, 17 percent in Iowa and 21 percent in Missouri.

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

A regular feature prepared by the American Cancer Society, to help save your life from cancer.

Question: "I am 30 years old. Should I have a Pap test annually?"

ANSWERline: Assuming that you have no symptoms, guidelines developed by the American Cancer Society suggest that at your age you should have a Pap test at least every three years. This, however, holds only after you have had two negative Pap tests one year apart.

Question: "I am 37 years old, and have read that the Society recommends that women between the ages of 35 and 40 have a baseline mammogram. What is it?"

ANSWERline: A baseline mammogram is an initial X ray of the breasts that can be used as a subsequent reference point by the physician in evaluating the condition of your breast in later years. The ACS recommends that women between 20 and 40 have a breast physical examination every three years, annually over the age of 40. All women past 20 should practice breast self-examination monthly. Women between 40 and 50 should consult their physicians about the need for mammography. In particular, women over 50 should have a mammogram every year.

Bits 'n pieces

There should be no question as to whom the title of champion of football goes in Mississippi this season.

The University of Southern Mississippi displayed an awesome offense as they buried Mississippi State Saturday. We have quite a few State fans who are still shaking their heads over the lopsided score.

The Golden Eagles are really golden this year. Reminds us of the mid-50's when they made the nation aware of their existence by stinging Alabama two years in a row.

Lookout Alabama, you may be in the game of your life come Oct. 25.

Football seems to be on the minds of most folks these days even with the World Series in progress.

The fans attending the Hancock North Central game Friday will long remember the suspense until the last second of the contest ticked away.

The Hawks looked like they were going to blow the St. John Eagles out of the county when they exploded to a 27-7 lead with the first half not over. Much to the surprise of everyone the Eagles went ahead with a little over two minutes left.

The Hawks kept their cool and pushed ahead with 46 seconds left only to find the Eagles knocking at the door again. The final play by the Eagles was a pass off the finger tips of a receiver in the end zone with six seconds left.

Even with the bleachers filled to overflowing, no one was sitting as the final gun sounded.

By the way, the game was one of the best we have seen in some time in regards to the sportsmanship of the players and coaches of both teams.

The football season is slowly winding down with only five weeks of regular play.

The Pass Christian Pirates, who are not having a good season will be trying to turn it around for homecoming Friday.

The Pirates will battle a strong Harrison Central and a big crowd of Pass Christian supporters are expected to urge them on.

Bay High, after doing a good showing on the score board for homecoming last week, will have to come up with another miracle when they visit Vancleave Friday.

Vancleave is undefeated and stronger than we have ever seen them. Good luck Bay High.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will receive a visit from St. Martin who dropped Pass Christian last week. Indications are that the Yellow Jackets have one of their better teams this year.

Pearl River Central will visit the Hawks of Hancock North Central and indications are that it will be a good contest.

So all of our local teams are at home this Friday and we hope all of you will do your best to support your favorite.

Remember the kick-offs are at 7:30 p.m.

Luke Saucier asked if we would mention the big Saucier Family Reunion coming up on Sunday, Oct. 19.

The reunion will be held at the Community Center, Poplarville, and it will be the eighth such gathering. We know many Sauciers live in Hancock County and are probably descendants of Pierre Saucier, the first Mississippi-born member of the family.

It would be a good time for relatives to meet.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Third grader saddened by foolishness of cigarette smokers

Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir,

I think that smoking is very bad because it can give you brain damage, heart disease, and cancer.

My Dad is a doctor and he has talked about it and I'm not going to do it.

Cigarettes have tar, and tobacco and nicotine in them. It's a bad habit to get into and an expensive one too.

A lot of people die every year of smoking. And a lot of teenagers do it too.

It makes me sad to see people smoking because I know what's going to happen to them.

Nobody in my family smokes. And I hope they never will.

Bay High Booster Club statement backs school's football team

October 14, 1980

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

For the local people who missed the opportunity of attending Bay High's Homecoming this past Friday night, the Tiger Booster Club would like to express its sympathy.

It was one of the greatest high school athletic contests it has ever been our privilege to witness.

The stadium was packed to standing room only, the bands were great, the fans spirited, and all of this added up to a great night for everyone.

True, the Tigers could not come away with the win, but it was a fantastic "spectator game" with the crowd remaining on their feet most all of the four quarters.

One particular moment will forever remain etched in our minds: the sight of Head Coach Snuffy Smith standing on the bench facing the crowd, arms upraised, trying to motivate the crowd into "Go Go Go" in support of his Tigers.

We've never seen that type of enthusiasm before and for that Snuffy, thanks.

We're proud of the job that you, Coach Griffin, and Coach Carnley are doing with just 26 young athletes who enter every game like they are 75 men strong.

We are justifiably proud of these young men. They have been playing their hearts out.

They have given everything that is humanly possible to give and then dug in and given more.

For that we would like to publicly thank them and say, Snuffy, Gary, Eddie and most of all, Tiger Team, we are proud of you!

Very sincerely,
TIGER BOOSTER CLUB

CONSUMER REPORT

office of
BILL ALLAIN, ATTORNEY GENERAL

Attorney General Bill Allain is warning citizens to be wary of any person who approaches them claiming they wish to share a large sum of money.

According to Allain, pigeon drop schemes have been surfacing throughout the state, more recently in the northeast and east central sections of the state.

The pigeon drop swindle, which is sometimes termed the "switch game," is carried out by two or more con artists working together. Black and white, male and female con artists often work together and use disguises. The swindle works in the following manner:

(1) HE OR SHE GETS YOUR ATTENTION:

The swindle begins when a con artist, acting as a helpless stranger, approaches the victim and utilizes some technique to obtain the victim's attention.

The con artist may be a man asking how to get to a hotel, a woman crying pitifully, or simply a con artist asking the victim to talk "just for a moment."

Pigeon droppers select their victim by exploring the victim's background and activities. Persons who are commonly chosen as victims are elderly, possibly retired and receiving Social Security or welfare.

(2) HE TELLS YOU HE HAS A LARGE SUM OF MONEY:

The pigeon dropper may show the victim an envelope which contains a neatly tied roll (sheets of paper), on the outside of which is a large denomination bill, $20 or more.

The pigeon dropper will tell the victim why he has the money. Some of the reasons may be that the pigeon dropper has just arrived from a foreign country and it's his life's savings; that they money is an inheritance; that he has found the money on the sidewalk, in a crowded store, or on the floor of a phone booth (this is the most commonly used story).

(3) HE ASKS FOR YOUR HELP:

The pigeon dropper, playing the role of an illiterate, may ask advice about a safe place to put the money and may ask whether the victim will keep it while he looks for a hotel or a reliable bank.

If the pigeon dropper has approached the victim from the standpoint of having found the money, he may offer to share it with the victim on the condition that he help him in some way, perhaps to hold the money while he talks to a lawyer.

(4) ANOTHER STRANGER APPROACHES:

At this point, a second pigeon dropper approaches the two and asks if he can help in any way. Pigeon dropper will explain the problem in the presence of the victim and will tell pigeon dropper No. 2 that the victim looks honest and can be trusted with the money.

Pigeon dropper No. 2, playing the role of an impartial stranger, agrees that the victim looks honest but suggests that the victim provide some "earnest money" to show good faith in exchange for part of the found money.

(5) VICTIM WITHDRAWS EARNEST MONEY FROM THE BANK:

Since the victim, under most circumstances, does not have sufficient cash, he usually agrees to withdraw a sufficient amount of money.

Pigeon dropper No. 2 is sometimes given the alleged "found money" by pigeon dropper No. 1 to hold while the victim withdraws the earnest money.

(6) VICTIM'S MONEY IS SWITCHED:

After the victim has withdrawn his earnest money, the victim gives the money to one of the pigeon droppers, whereupon a switch is made.

An example of this is a 75-year old lady in Mississippi who lost $2,000 in a pigeon drop swindle involving two women con artists.

The swindlers were probably members of a well-organized pigeon drop ring made up of blacks and whites, males and females, operating from another state.

A week later, two men claiming they were investigating what had happened to her, swindled another $8,000 from her under the guise of government agents. Cases of this type have been reported throughout the state and citizens should be alert for frauds of this type.

Bank officials and tellers should also be on the alert for elderly customers withdrawing large sums of cash.

Citizens should report any stranger who claims to have found a large sum of money to the local police, sheriff's department, or the consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office.

The alleged victim should try to get a license number or a good physical description including any recognizable characteristics.

Washington Report

By Congressman Trent Lott
5th District, Mississippi

Mississippi private schools have been put at a clear disadvantage by the ruling of a federal court in Washington, D.C., which threatens their tax exempt status.

The private schools in our state, regardless of whether they are church-sponsored or church-affiliated, are the subject of an investigation by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to determine possible discrimination.

The "kicker" is that because of the court case and a technical decision by the acting "Speaker" of the House, Mississippi private schools are the only ones in the country under investigation.

Private schools in every other state are protected by the Ashbrook amendment, which prohibits IRS from using federal funds to carry out policies causing the loss of tax exempt status of a private, religious or church-operated school.

There are several troubling aspects of the ruling in an 11-year-old lawsuit, not the least of which is that a federal judge has targeted Mississippi alone for punitive action. The lawsuit, experts say, was defended half-heartedly by Treasury Secretary G. William Miller and others against whom it was filed.

But the larger question involves religious freedom and a guarantee of First Amendment rights, which were not adequately addressed in the lawsuit.

As one Mississippi clergyman said in a letter, "As far as we are concerned, it is the same as telling our church how to run its business and that to me is in direct contradiction of the First Amendment to the Constitution."

The congressional power of the purse was also an issue that was totally ignored by all parties. The Ashbrook amendment, approved in 1979, sought to end the very type of action now being taken against Mississippi private schools.

But when Rep. John Ashbrook, of Ohio, offered his amendment last month, a point of order was raised. The point said Mississippi was involved in a lawsuit and changing its status amounted to legislation which cannot be attached to appropriations bills. The acting Speaker agreed and, on appeal to the full House, his ruling was upheld, 214-182.

One of the worst aspects of this case is that it places the burden on the schools to prove the absence of discrimination. In other words, the schools are "guilty until proven innocent," a concept contrary to basic American values.

One element of the court's decision is under appeal now, so the case is not over. But, frankly, some experts believe the ultimate disposition may rest with placing a new administration in Washington.

Health Tip

American Medical Association

Safe at Home? Not really.

In the "safety" of the American home there are more than 4,000,000 disabling injuries and 27,000 accidental deaths every year. They're called "accidents," but many of them could have been prevented.

Appoint yourself a committee of one to do something about accident hazards in your home, the American Medical Association advises. Heading the list of home accidents are four causes — falls, fire, poisoning and suffocation.

Falls produce almost half of the home accidents, mostly in older people. To curb falls, start a family pickup campaign — toys, shoes, newspapers and general litter around the house.

Use solid ladders or step stools, not chairs, for climbing. Light up dark and shadowy areas. Clear and salt icy walks and steps in winter. Have stair railings, even for short stairways. Keep stairs clear of all litter. Slip-proof your rugs.

To prevent fires, provide ample ashtrays. Don't smoke in bed, watch candles carefully and make certain fireplace screens fit snugly. Treat the kitchen stove with caution. Blousy sleeves and frilly aprons invite disaster.

Try to avoid, or handle with care, flammable fabrics. Keep children and pets away from the stove area while cooking.

Keep only safety matches in the home. Clean out attics, basements, closets and garages regularly. Discard old newspapers, boxes, clothes and stuffed furniture. Check extension cords for fraying or loose connections and broken insulation. Learn how to replace a fuse, but also find out why it blew. Have furnaces and water heaters checked regularly.

Poisoning is a problem for adults as well as children. Proper labeling is vital in poison prevention, plus making every effort to keep poisons out of the hands and reach of children. Under-the-sink storage areas for detergents and bleaches are an open invitation to youngsters. Carbon monoxide poisoning is an ever-present danger, especially in closed areas with the motor running. Keep one window open a crack. Furnaces and heaters improperly adjusted also can become carbon monoxide sources.

South Central Bel month will implement plans to charge for dialysis assistance calls.

With the new method charging for dialysis assistance, customers' service will pay for it. In the past, all customers shared dialysis assistance costs as their monthly rate for service—regardless of amount of usage.

Major features of the plan are:

-A monthly allowance directory assistance call line without charge. calls can be for local (obtained by dialing 411) or for in-state distance numbers (obtained by dialing 1-555-1212).

-Additional dialysis assistance calls over monthly allowance billed at 20 cents per line. All South Central business and residential subscribers in Mississippi receive a reduction of per line in the monthly basic local service.

South Central Bell to begin directory assistance charges

South Central Bell next month will implement its plans to charge for directory assistance calls.

With the new method of charging for directory assistance, customers who the service will pay for it.

In the past, all customers have shared directory assistance costs as part of their monthly rate for local service—regardless of the amount of usage.

Major features of the new plan are:

A monthly allowance of 10 directory assistance calls per line without charge. These calls can be for local numbers (obtained by dialing 1-411 or 411) or for in-state long distance numbers (obtaining by dialing 1-555-1212).

Additional directory assistance calls over the monthly allowance will be billed at 20 cents per call.

All South Central Bell business and residence subscribers in Mississippi will receive a reduction of 50 cents per line in the monthly rate for basic local service.

The 20-cent charge for a call to long distance directory assistance within Mississippi (to 1-555-1212) will be cancelled by an in-state long distance call made from and charged to the customer's phone during the same billing period.

Franklin Kyle Jr., district manager for South Central Bell, feels the new way of charging for directory assistance is fairer for everyone.

"Now the majority of Mississippians—those who call directory assistance infrequently—will no longer have to pay the bill for those who use the service a great deal," Kyle said.

Bell studies show that 90 percent of all directory assistance calls are made by just one-third of the company's subscribers. Further, about 85 percent of the directory assistance requests are for numbers listed in the telephone directory.

It's clear that charges for directory assistance can usually be avoided if people

"In fact, as more people begin to look up numbers to avoid the 20-cent charge, the volume of directory assistance calls should drop significantly. Reducing the number of calls will save the company—and telephone users—money," he said.

"Not only will we immediately be able to lower local telephone rates by 50 cents a month, but this also will enable us to minimize future rate increases that might be required," Kyle added.

Kyle also pointed out some other features of the plan.

On each call to directory assistance, customers will be able to request three numbers.

People with disabilities that prevent them from using a telephone directory are eligible for an exemption from DA charges. Customers may contact their local South Central Bell Residence Service Center to obtain information on an exemption.

There will be no charge for directory assistance calls made from coin phones, mobile phones, hospital patient rooms, and from hotel and motel guest rooms.

Kyle said the telephone company will make every effort to insure that all customers understand the new directory assistance plan.

"Details of the plan will be spelled out in insert included with November telephone bills and also will be included in future telephone directories," Kyle concluded.

4-H FEATURED

'Farmweek' takes a look at the 4-H program and how it prepares children for careers in farming at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 20, on the Mississippi Educational Television network. 'Farmweek' reporter John Winfield talks with Harris Swayze of Yazoo City who was a member of 4-H when he was growing up. Swayze tells how his being active in 4-H has helped him in his farming. Each Monday at 7:30 p.m., with a rebroadcast the following Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., 'Farmweek' features an aspect of farming in Mississippi. The series also provides farm news, market reports and weather forecasts. 'Farmweek' is co-produced by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and Mississippi ETV.

Brief

BLUES EXPLORED
The artistry of Mississippi blues musicians figures prominently in the blues scene. The next program in 'From Jumpstreet' with Oscar Brown Jr. recognizes that fact and looks to many Mississippians in the program's effort to distinguish between country and urban blues while demonstrating musical characteristics of each style and showing the settings in which they emerged. The program can be seen at 7:30 p.m., Thurs., Oct. 16, on Educational Television Network. Among the special guests are Willie Dixon, formerly of Vicksburg, and his Chicago Blues All-Stars. In an interview with Brown, Dixon discusses his youth in Mississippi, his migration to Chicago and the nature of blues as a form of storytelling and communication. The lyrics of Mississippi blues, as written by the late Johnson, writing in the late 1930's, and of Dixon, in the mid-50's, are highlighted in the next segment, along with acknowledgement of the influence of 'Mississippi Muddy Waters' on young white musical groups such as The Rolling Stones, and musicians Eric Clapton and Johnny Winter, another Mississippian. The regional nature of country blues is shown through film clips of Charley Patton of the Mississippi Delta and Blind Lemon Jefferson of Texas.

The facts are in. After four terms as our representative in Congress, Trent Lott has triumphed over a long-recognized Catch-22 of the office: Congressmen who become powerful in Washington are better able to help the people back home, but the price of becoming powerful in Washington is loss of contact with the people back home, since no one can devote sufficient time and energy to both. Trent Lott has:

Fact one: According to the Library of Congress, 38-year-old Trent is the youngest Mississippian in history to be elected to a congressional leadership position. He is chairman of the House Republican Research Committee, helped write his party's 1980 platform, and is the ranking Republican member of the powerful Rules Subcommittee on Legislative Process.

Fact two: In July 1980, a national polling organization, measuring public opinion in Mississippi, discovered that an astounding 83% of the people who have an opinion say that Congressman Lott has "stayed in touch with the people in Mississippi rather than becoming too much involved in politics in Washington."

Trent Lott has emerged as a respected conservative spokesman in Washington... and remained an effective conservative Congressman for Mississippi.

That is his triumph. The facts are in.

Ag Affairs

by Ed Blake

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is undergoing changes in purpose that have American farmers worried. They fear, and rightly so, based on recent innovations, that this cabinet level department is being eroded by political winds to the point that it no longer represents the needed alliance between the federal government and the nation's farmers.

Rather, they feel, the federal department is turning its guardianship more and more in the direction of the public at large - as consumers rather than as producers of food and fiber.

Originally USDA was created to protect the interests of agriculture and for many years it has faithfully followed that course.

Historically, changes within the department have been insignificant. In 1939 Congress passed a law giving the President power to transfer some of the work of the federal government from one agency to another. And under current law, the President has considerable power to reorganize the departments which are responsible to him, including USDA. However, he must submit such plans to Congress and may go ahead with his changes only if Congress fails to say "no" within 60 days.

However, to create an entirely new department or to transform an independent agency into one responsible to the President takes an act of Congress.

The erosion and change in direction of USDA has not been brought before Congress, however, and the changes have been fairly recent and gradual, if not subtle. But changes have been wrought nevertheless in numerous programs switching from farmers' interests to those of the public at large.

Indications that USDA would move farther from its original intent and purpose - to the point of becoming a Department of Consumer Affairs - were obvious to participants recently in a series of "structure of agriculture" meetings called over the country by USDA secretary Bob Bergland. He made it very clear that consumer interests would play a dominant role in formulating the administration's new farm policy.

Intentions were transformed into reality with publication of the current USDA's annual "Yearbook of Agriculture". Traditionally a technical reference work for farmers, the current issue drew scorn from farmers when it appeared as a consumer-oriented cartoon book aimed at children.

Recent years too have seen nationally prominent consumer advocate Carol Tucker Foreman appointed to a top position of influence on the USDA staff. And her loyalty obviously remains more with consumers than with farmers.

The latest indicator of the subtle switch in USDA direction came into the limelight during the recent Texas State Fair in Dallas as secretary Bergland made an award to USDA Chief Economist Howard Hjort who was cited for steering the USDA from a producer-oriented agency.

Put on the spot by the award, Bergland said the issue was a matter of a dumb word choice by the office of personnel. He went on to acknowledge nevertheless that his agency had taken an interest in consumers in order to have an understanding between producers and consumers so that farmers produce what the market wants.

Bergland responded further that the USDA would continue its consumer-oriented policies and denied that the department was no longer serving the interests of farmers.

Meanwhile, organized U.S. farmers are on record vigorously opposing all efforts to rename USDA, consolidate it with any other department or agency of government, and recommend its retention as a full cabinet level department.

WEATHER REPORT

WEATHER SUMMARY

(National Weather Service): A stationary front across central Mississippi brought much needed rain to most of the state Monday and Tuesday. Rainfall amounts for this period averaged around one and one-half inches, although a few spots in the Delta recorded amounts in excess of four inches. Clarkdale had the highest 24 hour total with 3.78 inches on Monday.

Late Tuesday the stationary front started moving southward as much cooler and drier air invaded the state from the north. Skies started clearing from the north early Tuesday and by Wednesday morning most cloudiness had moved out of the state. The remainder of the week remained cool and dry, as residents of the state got their first taste of fall weather this year. Temperatures around the state averaged from 4 to 12 degrees below normal.

CROP SUMMARY: Rainfall slowed harvesting early in the week. Winter wheat planting still lags behind the average. Rains improved planting conditions.

Soil moisture improved significantly to adequate to short. Fieldwork was limited to 3.2 days compared to 5.3 days for last year and the average.

Cotton was in fair to poor condition with 19 percent of the crop harvested compared to 6 percent last year and 18 percent average.

Soybeans were in mostly poor condition with 82 percent of the crop shedding compared to 75 percent a year ago and 71 percent average. About 40 percent of the acreage was mature compared to 30 percent a year ago. Harvesting advanced to 13 percent completion the same as the average and ahead of the 8 percent for last year.

Rice was in fair condition with 96 percent of the acreage mature compared to 97 percent last year. Eighty percent of the acreage was harvested ahead of the 63 percent for both last year and the average.

Sorghum was 98 percent ripe ahead of the 92 percent for last year. Harvesting was 50 percent completed compared to 63 percent last year and 56 percent average. Ninety-five percent of the sorghum for silage has been cut.

Corn was in poor to very poor condition with 78 percent of the acreage harvested compared to 63 percent last year and 55 percent average.

Pastures were in poor condition. Hay was 93 percent harvested compared to 90 percent a year ago and 89 percent average.

Peanuts were 80 percent harvested compared to 65 percent a year ago and 69 percent average.

Sweetpotatoes were 48 percent harvested compared to 45 percent last year and 51 percent average.

Winter wheat was 33 percent planted behind last year's 28 percent and the average of 35 percent.

Pecans were in poor to fair condition.

COUNTIES

CALHOUN CO. "Crop yields disappointing. Heavy rains during week has ground wet."

BENTON CO. "Two inch rain over the week-end has kept farmers out of fields for most of the week."

PONTOTOC CO. "A five and one-half inch rain was welcomed by all. Soybean yields are poor, we are getting ready for winter wheat planting."

YAZOO CO. "Ginning well ahead of last year at this time - 15,500 compared to 198 bales. However, so will harvest end. Soybean yields very discouraging."

CHOCTAW CO. "Now that rain came, waiting to harvest a short crop of cotton and beans."

LOWNDES CO. "Three inches of rain over weekend great on pasture and late hay but too late for cotton and soybeans."

CLAIBORNE CO. "Good rains over county will help fill out late varieties of soybeans and bring up wheat and winter grazing."

SMITH CO. "Very little fall planting being done. If rains don't come soon, it will be too late for soybeans. Hay will be in short supply this winter."

Waveland doctor attends conference

Dr. Helen McGehee M.D. attended an annual scientific assembly of the American Academy of Family Physicians in New Orleans. The meeting was in conjunction with the Ninth World Conference on Family Medicine of the World Organization of National Colleges, Academies and Academic Associations of General Practitioners-Family Physicians.

An academy spokesman says, "The joint conference, the first meeting of its kind in the US, was recently held at the Rivergate Exhibition Center. More than 7,000 family physicians from around the world attended the medical education meeting." "McGehee, who is a member of the Academy, heard internationally renowned speakers discuss up-to-the-minute health care topics. She also had an opportunity to attend clinical seminars on 30 different topics and visited some 70 scientific and 380 technical exhibits," the spokesman reported.

"Subjects covered in the four-day scientific session are of immediate interest to family doctors both in their everyday practices and in their continual endeavors to keep abreast of their latest advances in medicine," the spokesman stated.

"This year, topics included hypertension, aging, diabetes, drug interactions, contraceptive counseling, and childhood nutrition," the spokesman added.

The American Academy of Family Physicians, headquartered in Kansas City, is the nation's second largest medical organization.

The organization acclaims to be the pioneer among medical organizations by requiring its members to take continuing medical education. Its 48,000 members must complete 150 hours of mandatory continuing study every three years.

Business seminar slated in Biloxi

The University of Southern Mississippi will offer two Small Business Administration Seminars Nov. 10-11 at the Biloxi Holiday Inn. "Credit Collections for the Small Business" on Nov. 10 and "How to Finance Your Business Through Bank Loans" Nov. 11 will be conducted by private business consultant Bob Meisel.

Registration will be at 8:30 a.m. each day and the seminars will conclude at 4:30 p.m. each day.

"Credit Collections" will deal with aspects of credit, applications and collection systems. The bank loans seminar will examine the language of banks, questions bankers ask and preparations for going to see a banker. For additional information contact Business and Industrial Programs, Southern Station Box 5055, Hattiesburg, Miss. 39401.

Yellow Jackets won last meeting, 32-0

By Randy Ponder
The St. Martin Yellow Jackets, fresh off a victory against Pass Christian, will swarm into Bay St. Louis, Friday night for a close encounter of the bruising kind with the St. Stanislaus' Rock-A-Chaws.

The Rocks were defeated by the d'Iberville Warriors, 22-7, in North Biloxi last week. The loss dropped the Rock-A-Chaw's season record to four wins and two losses. St. Martin is 3-3 for the year.

"They're probably the best 3-3 team around," St. Stanislaus coach Barry Jones stated. "They have lost some close games to real good teams."

The Yellow Jackets run out of the Pro-Set formation and have several standout players, including running-back Tony Bennett. Last week in the Pass Christian game, Bennett exploded for 158 yards and one touchdown.

"St. Martin has the potential to be awesome," Jones elaborated. "They were ranked near the top of the conference in the coaches preseason poll. They have good personnel and a lot of people returning from last year's squad that beat us 32-0," Jones added.

According to Jones, "The Yellow Jackets put nine men on the line defensively. They dare you to throw the ball."

Stanislaus looking to even score

We're going to have to go into the game with intentions of passing early in the contest to try to loosen their line so that we'll be able to run the football."

Penalties have been a problem all year with the Rock-A-Chaws, perhaps costing the game in d'Iberville last week. "We're aware of the problem," Jones commented. "We're working on eliminating some of them, but penalties are going to occur when you play good, hard, aggressive football."

Full-back Andy Melvin is expected to miss the St.

Martin game with a knee injury suffered in the d'Iberville contest.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Additional areas open to hunting Saturday

This coming weekend will be another big outing for many state hunters.

On Saturday, Zone II counties in Mississippi will open to squirrel hunting.

Areas included are: Adams, Amite, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Claiborne, Clay, Copiah, Franklin, Hinds, Itawamba, Jasper, Jefferson, Kamper, Lawrence, Leake, Lee, Lincoln, Lowndes, Monroe, Neshoba, Newton, Noxubee, Oktibbeha, Pike, Rankin, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Walthall, Warren, south of I-20, Webster, Wilkinson, and Winston.

For squirrel hunters the daily limit is eight and possession limit is 16, with no possession limit on opening day.

The second statewide dove season opens Saturday. The 25-day season extends through Sunday, Nov. 9.

Hunters are permitted 12 doves daily, and a possession limit of 24. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Small waterfowl hunters will be out in force when the state's first goose season opens on Oct. 18.

Blue geese, snow geese and white-fronted geese, sometime called "speckled bellies," will be the target of most hunters. Canada Geese may not be hunted during this season.

According to Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife director Benny Herring, most geese will be found along sections of the Mississippi River.

SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1980-1B

Hawks to host neighboring Pearl River

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock North Central Hawks, fresh from a come-from-behind homecoming victory over the St. John Eagles, will host the Pearl River Central Blue Devils this week.

Head Coach Arvin Favre said Tuesday, "We were lucky to be a winner last week, it sure was a fans game. Pearl River Central has won their last four games in a row and have the momentum going for them."

"The Blue Devils are always fired up for the Hawks. Their defensive line out weighs our offensive line by 20 pounds per man. If we are going to win, we will have to crack that defensive squad of Pearl River," Favre added. Favre mentioned that last Friday's victory came after the worse second half performance of the season after the best first half showing of the 1980 Hawks.

The game Friday which gets underway in the Hawk stadium will start at 7:30 p.m. and Favre expects his team to be 100 percent physically for the contest.

Favre mentioned, "Joe Walton Jr., a Blue Devil running back will have to be contained by the Hawks defense, as he is a classic runner."

Last week Pearl River defeated Notre Dame 33-7 so the Hawks will have to play heads-up ball Favre feels.

The Hawks depended on the running game week until they were down 27-30 and Bobby Devaugh, quarterback started to put the ball in the air.

"Devaugh's one long pass completion enabled us to go ahead because we would have not had time to grind out the yardage in the come-from-behind victory," Favre noted.

Pearl River is an independent like the Hawks and are 4-2 for the season with Hancock even at 3-3.

LAST MINUTE PASS — Hawk quarterback Bobby Devaugh passes seconds before being tagged by two Eagles in late drive for score. Devaugh made a long completion setting up the Hawk's final score with only 46 seconds left in the game against St. John. Devaugh scored two TD's and intercepted one Eagle pass in helping the Hawks take the homecoming victory (4-2). The Hawks (3-3) will host Pearl River Central this week. Kickoff is slated at 7:30 p.m. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas) handed Fahey's Drugs the first defeat in seven starts by an 18-12 margin in the BSL men's football league Oct. 7.

Sister's Three upped their record to 3-4 by cutting off

Hancock Bank, 20-8.

Thursday night's action saw the American Legion squeak by Hancock Bank 18-13 and Sister's Three stretched their winning streak to three in a row by outlasting Fahey's Drugs, 32-19.

Games this week include Fahey's Drugs (6-2) vs. Hancock Bank (3-5) and American Legion (3-5) vs. Sister's Three (4-1). Games start at 7 and 8:30 p.m. at Commerce Bank Park.

Pirates continue giant-killer role against Harrison Central

By EDGAR PEREZ

Following a victory and a loss on the road, the Pass Christian Pirates this week return to McDonald Stadium for homecoming in a battle against the third largest school in Mississippi.

Harrison Central will invade Pass Christian with its AA Gulf Coast Conference squad some 75 members strong, featuring depth at quarterback and a 230-pound senior tackle who's considered one of the best offensive linemen in the state.

"They'll have a great deal more depth than we will, and we're not sure which of two good quarterbacks they will start," said Pirate Head Coach Bob Lumpkin.

Lumpkin said Harrison Central will be led by six-foot, two-inch tackle Bruce Ladner and senior quarterback Wesley Jones.

Harrison Central has lost to four of the strongest teams on the Coast—downed by Gulfport, 17-15 with a Harrison Central winning touchdown called back; a one-touchdown loss to Biloxi in the season opener; a loss to undefeated Petal; and a fourth loss at the hands of ever-powerful Ocean Springs.

D'Iberville and Stone were beaten by Harrison Central. The Pirates 2-3 season thus far includes wins over Monticello, 12-6 and Bay High, 21-7.

Pass was edged by St. Martin there last week, 12-6, and suffered earlier defeats by d'Iberville, 21-8, and Vancleave, 7-0.

"We feel like we have a good chance to win, and the more support we get from our fans the better that chance will be," Lumpkin said in urging Pirate boosters to turn out for the homecoming event.

"We came away from the St. Martin game without any injuries and we have been working especially hard this week to make a good showing before the hometown crowd Friday," the coach explained.

The Pass Christian Cheerleaders are sponsoring a 6:30 p.m. bonfire and rally Thursday. Also Thursday, the Pass High Junior Class is sponsoring "dress-up day" and an assembly program.

Friday will be red, white and blue day at the school with a 2 p.m. homecoming parade sponsored by the Senior Class. The football game kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. with homecoming queen crowning ceremonies during the halftime period.

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a dance following the game in the multi-purpose building of the North Street Elementary School adjacent to McDonald Stadium.

The Homecoming Court Senior Maids include: Tammy Bowser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Admiral Bowser; Kim Dill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dill; Patricia Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson; Becky Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donivan Ladner; and Judy Necaise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Necaise.

Junior Maids are Jennifer Caldwell, daughter of Mrs. Linda Ladner and William Caldwell; Sabrina Piernas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Piernas; Kelli Shiyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Shiyon; and Robbin Warren, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Warren.

Sophomore maids include Rachel Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Cook; Charlotte Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logan; and Traci Wiggin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wiggins. Freshman Maids are Lisa Johnson, daughter of Mrs. William Johnson, and Petie Ketchum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ketchum.

THEY ALSO SERVE—Sophomore tailback Tai Raboteau, No. 28, and junior flankers Clarence Joseph, No. 29, and Dion Bradley, No. 39, represent the reserve strength of the Pass Christian Pirates who celebrate homecoming with a battle in store Friday night against the mammoth Harrison Central. GOLF TEAM ACTION

The Ole Miss golf team swings into action Oct. 5 when it hosts a two-day Mississippi Intercollegiate Golf Tournament on the newly renovated University Golf Course. The field, in addition to Ole Miss, will include defending champion Southern Mississippi, Mississippi Valley State, Delta State, Jackson State and Mississippi State. Coach Ernest Ross said he is pleased with his team's attitude and progress. He also announced that freshman Gary Martin and sophomore Randy Watkins and Chris Mills have earned three of the five qualifying positions for Sunday's opening round.

CROWN'S HOMEcoming QUEEN—Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Superintendent of Education J.D. McCulloch crowns Suzi Thomas 1980 homecoming queen during pre-game ceremonies Friday night as her father and escort, Richard (Dick) Thomas, flashes a proud smile. Also participating in the on-field ceremonies at Tiger Stadium in Bay

St. Louis are a host of photographers, members of the court and the Bay Senior High School Marching Band. The Bay High varsity football team will play the Vancleave High School Bulldogs Friday night here beginning at 7:30 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Chocolate Banana Cookies

Ever see children smile when they find a surprise in their lunch box? It's worth every bit of the loving care you put into a nutritious batch of fun cookies. "Chocolate Banana Cookies" — for lunch or after school — make the kind of treat kids remember long after they've grown up. We'll bet mom won't resist sneaking a few herself.

Make these on a Saturday or a day off. If you want to forget the surprise, it's the kind of recipe small children can help prepare — or a ten-year old can do herself from scratch. Enriched self-rising flour (which contains leavening and salt), makes mixing easy and sure. And because the flour is enriched, it contributes the B-vitamins, thiamin, niacin and riboflavin, plus the minerals, iron and calcium to your children's diet. The bananas and nuts add their "good-for-you" nutrients — deliciously.

CHOCOLATE BANANA COOKIES

1 cup enriched self-rising flour
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla or orange extract
1 egg
1 cup mashed bananas (about 3)
2 squares (1 oz. each) semi-sweet chocolate, melted
1 cup chopped nuts
Confectioners' sugar
Cream together butter and sugars. Beat in vanilla and egg. Blend in bananas, cooled chocolate and nuts. Stir in flour. Drop by level tablespoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in preheated 350° oven 12 to 14 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.
Spoon flour into dry measuring cup; level. Do not scoop.
NOTE: If all-purpose flour is used, add 1/2 teaspoon baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Lady Rebel netters eye tough schedule

The Ole Miss Lady Rebels tennis squad is preparing for the toughest fall schedule ever with a slate of eight matches. Action opens at Columbus on October 10 with matches against Florida State and Mississippi University for Women.

The Lady Rebs stay in town the next day to take on arch rival Mississippi State at the neutral site.

But then it's back home to Oxford for the remainder of the schedule. Alabama at Birmingham and Millsaps pay visits before powerhouses Memphis State, Tennessee and LSU arrive on the scene.

"This schedule is our roughest ever but it also offers our fans a chance to see some of the top tennis players in the country," Ole Miss coach Billy Chadwick said.

"We will find out right away how well we can do in our region and the Southeastern Conference."

Perk dumps Wildcats, PRC to face Holmes

The Pearl River Wildcats dropped a 28-10 decision to archrival Gulf Coast last Saturday night in Pascagoula, leaving the Poplarville based team with a 3-3 overall ledger and a 1-3 mark in the south division.

The fourth consecutive loss to the Bulldogs also left a lot of questions unanswered. And then again it just may be another sign of how the season will end up.

"We really looked great during practice last week," said PRC's head coach J.C. Arban. "But, mental mistakes on execution and techniques killed us when the game actually began." Arban said he had two, three and many times even more players missing assignments on just one play.

"We just took turns playing like first graders," Arban said. "I mean it looks like we didn't even study the scouting reports at all." Arban then turned to the mimeographed copies of the halfback pass the Bulldogs used for one touchdown and the off tackle run that accounted for another six points.

"Here it is in black and white and we just didn't bother to react the way we practiced last week."

Bulldog coach George Sekul changed things up on the Wildcats and his strategy worked out beautifully. Instead of passing the Wildcat crazy, the Bulldogs used a devastating ground game to wreak the hopes of the 'Cats.

Sherman Robinson led the Bulldog attack as he picked up 167 yards on 15 carries and scored two touchdowns. In all, the Wildcats' defense gave up 325 yards on the ground, a feat which had to surprise the Bulldogs as much as the Wildcats.

"They (the Bulldogs) have not run over anyone else," Arban said, "and I thought the defense against the rush was our strong suit." Arban said he was pleased with his offense, however, fumbles killed most of the Wildcat drives.

"We're not going to quit," said Keith Courtney, a sophomore defensive safety from Picayune. "I know things don't look all that great, but, I believe we can bounce back and still have a winning season."

Mark Griffith, a sophomore defensive end from Prentiss, who has battled a bad knee problem all year long, agreed with Courtney. "We have worked too hard and love football too much to just give up - it's not going to happen."

Courtney recalled last year, when the Wildcats opened with three straight wins and then dropped four encounters before finishing the year with three straight wins and a 6-4 ledger. "We didn't throw in the towel last year," Courtney said, "and we're not about to quit this year."

Southwest, Co-Lin and, Northeast, the nation's number one ranked team.

Saturday night the Wildcats will tangle with Holmes, a team which has won their last two contests and is seemingly getting things together under new head coach A.J. Kilpatrick.

Arban said the Holmes Bulldogs were big and strong on defense and had a good, young quarterback. They can run option really well," Arban said.

"We may not look pretty Saturday night," Arban said, "but I promise you one thing, we're going to hit."

Captains for the game will be Denist Nelson, Carl Pearce and Reid Houston.

USM offers special family ticket bargain

Saturday's home game for the USM Golden Eagles will be family night, a special promotion encouraging families to attend the game together.

PRC 8th ranked in poll

Junior College Grid-Wire has listed the Gulf Coast Junior College Bulldogs in fifth place among the nation's top 30 junior college football teams of the 1970s.

The Bulldogs, coached by George Sekul, were national champions in 1971 after defeating Fort Scott (Kansas) in the Shrine Bowl at Savannah, Georgia.

Grid-Wire, a national junior college football rating service, picked Mesa (Arizona) as the No. 1 team. Two other Mississippi teams made the list. They are Pearl River, eighth, and Jones, 29th.

"The Eagles will be returning to their home stadium after a rousing victory over Mississippi State and deserve to be welcomed by a full house," said Terry Bethea, promotions coordinator at USM.

Family night tickets are $3 for each member of the family when purchased together, a $5 savings on the regular $8 ticket.

"Our special night promotions have been an excellent opportunity for individuals, who might not otherwise have had the opportunity to see the Eagles play," Bethea said.

Tickets for family night may be purchased at the Coliseum ticket office during normal business hours. Families who live outside the Hattiesburg area may call 1-800-222-1605 toll-free and reserve their tickets.

The Eagles will meet the Arkansas State Indians for the second home game in six starts.

Other special activities scheduled for the remainder of the season include, group night, Band Day, I'll Eagle Night and High School night.

Ole Miss on a Gator hunt

Ole Miss will host the Florida Gators in a Homecoming game in Hemingway Stadium Saturday. Kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

Ole Miss leads the rivalry 8-4-1 in a series which dates back to a 12-7 Rebel win in Gainesville in 1926.

The last game between the two teams was played in 1973 in Gainesville and the Rebels won that one, 13-10. The last Florida win was a 16-0 tilt in Oxford in 1972.

A crowd of more than 37,000 is expected for the game. Steve Sloan, in his third year at Ole Miss, has compiled a career record of 45-39-2. Gator head coach Charley Pell, in his second season at Florida, has a career record of 54-28-3. Sloan is a 1966 graduate of Alabama. Pell is a 1964 graduate of Alabama.

The Rebels are 1-5 overall, 0-1 in the SEC after last week's 28-21 loss to the unbeaten Georgia Bulldogs in Athens. The Gators are 3-1 overall, 1-1 in the SEC, with a victory over Mississippi State and a loss to LSU. Florida enjoyed an open date last week.

"Florida is a very formidable opponent. They had a lot of people injured last year and now they have them all back - especially on defense," said Rebel coach Steve Sloan.

"Their offense presents a lot of motion, a lot of short passes, and a lot of tricks. They are not easy to defend against. Florida also has a very good kicking game. I also know that Charley (Pell) will have them ready to play," Sloan stated.

A Dad's Day crowd of 47,079 was on hand in Gainesville in 1973 when the Gators and Rebels last met. The Rebels were trailing 10-8 with less than five minutes to play when Rebel quarterback Bill Malouf, facing a third and six situation at the Gator eight, flipped a pass at flanker Rick Kimbrough in the end zone. The ball was tipped by a pair of defenders - right into Kimbrough's hands. That made it 12-10 and Steve Lavenghous added his seventh point of the afternoon for the final 13-10 margin. The play that set up the Rebel touchdown was a 42-yard bomb, Malouf to Kimbrough.

USM seeks name for golden eagle

A contest to name the "live" Golden Eagle at the University of Southern Mississippi has been announced by Alumni Association President Earl Marshall and USM Associated Student Body President Chuck Lindsay.

The contest is open to students, faculty, staff and former students of the University.

Homecoming on November 1 has been set as the deadline for suggesting names.

A committee of alumni and students will then select suggested names which will be submitted to the active (paid) membership of the Alumni Association and to the student body for their vote.

Former students wishing to make name suggestions should send them, along with their own name and mailing address, to: Name the "Live" Golden Eagle, Box 5013 Southern Station, Hattiesburg, MS 39401.

Sports coverage expands

Thirty-five regular season National Hockey League games - 20 more than last year - will be carried live this season by ESPN sports network.

Last season ESPN split its telecasts between Hartford and Washington home games. This season the schedule will include all the Canadian teams, featuring Montreal, Toronto, Edmonton, Quebec and the newest franchise, Calgary.

ESPN will also carry selected home games with Buffalo, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, and St. Louis.

Winnipeg, featuring U.S. Olympic star Dave Christian, travels to Washington, October 10 at 8 p.m., for ESPN's first telecast. Two other games are set for October: St. Louis at Washington (October 24 at 8 p.m.) and St. Louis at Stanley Cup semi-finalist Minnesota (October 29 at 8:30 p.m.).

The balance of the schedule will be released periodically by Hancock Community Cable, which carries ESPN in this area.

FRESHMAN EXCELS
UNIVERSITY, Miss. - The Ole Miss Rebel cross country team delivered its best performance yet and freshman K.C. Keeney-Nielsen finished 12th overall in the Auburn Invitational Meet last weekend.

The Rebels will need top performances from all team members this weekend as the squad competes in the Mississippi Intercollegiate at Riverside Park in Jackson.

We capture the magic of the moment!

caught on October 5 in Ft. Bayou and an eight-pounder was caught on October 7 near the Jackson Watson Power-Plant:

"They are all busy trying to find the cause of the decline of their striped fishery, but as of now, no one has come up with the answer," concluded Nicholson.

Since the seminar, a nine-pound striper was reported

Since switching to night seining in August, lab personnel working on the anadromous fish project, headed by Nicholson, have caught 40 juvenile striped bass in the Tchoutacabouffa and Jourdan Rivers.

By seining at night, when the young stripers apparently are feeding, project personnel are increasing their knowledge of where the fish are, what they are doing, and what they are feeding on, Nicholson added.

"Every time we see large numbers of stripers, we also see large numbers of Notropis, a top minnow," he said, "and we think they are feeding on the minnow."

"We also have reports of 3- to 4-pound and larger fish, probably 2 years old, being caught in large numbers in the Biloxi and Tchoutacabouffa rivers, so we know that our fish are surviving well," continued Nicholson.

Since 1969, Laboratory personnel have released over 2 million striped bass fingerlings in coastal waters, 90 percent of those since 1975.

"Before that time, we were really just learning to rear the fish," commented Nicholson.

The striped bass Morone saxatilis is found along the eastern coast from St. Lawrence River in Canada to St. John's River in Florida, with the primary concentration from Chesapeake

"BUZZ, JIGGER AND DAPPLE"

The language fishermen use
If you don't understand

If you don't understand "buzzing, jiggering and dapping," it's because you haven't been introduced to these three techniques.

Buzzing is top-water fishing with a lure that makes a lot of noise as it zips along.

Tie a four-foot section of 1 pound-test monofilament to the end of an eight- or ten-foot long cane pole.

To this, attach a large plug with spinners at both ends. Use your boat to ease along the shore, and "buzz" the lure in the water near any likely fish holding spots.

Jiggering is buzzing under water. The pole should be low enough that the end will drag the water.

Shorten the line to two feet, attach a noise-making plug that runs beneath the surface.

Move the lure slowly around lily pads, moss and other like spots.

You can impart extra action to the lure by tapping the butt end of the pole to create vibrations.

Dappling is a dry-fly technique that pays off when fishing for trout, panfish and other species which feed on insects.

Use four feet of light lead. Tie on a dry fly, and lightly touch it to the water repeatedly, imitating an insect laying

King of The Hill professional boxing will resume at the Action begins at 8 p.m. each Mississippi Coast State Fair in Coast Coliseum, October 22 and 26.

The tournament format will feature bouts in the heavyweight and light-heavyweight divisions, with over $2,500 in cash prizes.

Preliminary bouts will begin on Wednesday, October 22, and the semi-finals and final will be held on Sunday.

Women joggers of all ages are invited to participate in the Third Annual Jackson Parks Run Saturday.

The race begins at 9 a.m. at Livingston Park and ends 6.2 miles later in Riverside Park.

The race is open to both male and female runners, but Mississippi races have generally drawn only about 20 percent female entrants and the race sponsors would like to see more women participate.

There will be 38 custom designed stained glass awards presented to the top three finishers in each of the 12 women's categories.

The five year age divisions start at age 5 and end with the 60 and older division.

There will also be an award to the youngest and the oldest female finisher.

Other special awards and drawing prizes are planned.

To be eligible for an award a runner must finish the course in 90 minutes or less.

For information, call the Jackson Parks and Recreation Department, 960-1827, and ask for Ms. Gibson for a race application or information.

All entrants will receive a race t-shirt.

VOLLEYBALL
Sporting a sparkling 12-season record, the Ole Miss Lady Rebels hit the road to compete in the Missouri Tiger Invitational Friday and Saturday. In its only tournament appearance of the season, the squad placed second in the Mississippi University for Women

Waveland horse nosed at Oak Downs

PEARL RIVER — The first and last races were the closest on a nine-race program Sunday at Oak Downs.

The afternoon started with Rocky taking a one-half length victory over J.R. in a 400-yard test. Rocky was clocked in 21.9 seconds with John Hirdes in the irons.

The 250-yard ninth saw Omega Diana, owned and trained by John Paul Amacker of Poplarville turn back Rocky Hill Bailey, owned and trained by James Watson of Waveland, by a nose. Omega Diana was timed in 14.1 seconds.

Smoke Stack, a steady performer owned and trained by Joe Boatwright of Cantonment, Fla., posted a one and one-half length victory over Elmo Harless' Godnight Omega in the 440-yard third.

All three entrants were closely bunched at the finish of the 350-yard fourth race as Nick, owned by V.L. Thomas of Bogalusa, held on for a one-length win over James Watson's Ultra Royal, which finished a nose ahead of Harless' Miss Fiber Test.

Nick was clocked in 19 seconds flat.

Another close match saw Snake Hips edge Water Rights by a length in the 5-mile sixth race.

In the 440-yard eighth race, Skool upset April's Injun with a time of 23 seconds and the same two horses have been re-natched for a total of $100 each on Oct. 26.

Sunday's results:

1) 400 yards, Rocky, :21.9, William Montaguy, owner; Reo Burns, trainer; John Hirdes, jockey. J.R., second.

2) 6 furlongs, Brother, :1:19.8, Ricky McQueen, owner and trainer; Ralph Shubert, jockey. Sister, second, Beauty's Girl, third.

3) 440 yards, Smoke Stack, :22.7, Joe Boatwright, owner and trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Goodnight Omega, second.

4) 350 yards, Nick, :19.0, V.L. Thomas, owner; John Paul Amacker, trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Ultra Royal, second. Miss Fiber Test, third.

5) Three-eighth mile, Shannon's Shanty, :38.5, Ed Peebles, owner; Anthony Dedeaux, trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Attakate, second.

6) 1/2 mile, Snake Hips, :1:05.1, Bruce Benton, owner; Bill Harris, trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Water Rights, second. Reed N Weep, third.

7) Three-eighth mile, Holiday's Goal, :37.5, Ed Peebles, owner; Anthony Dedeaux, trainer; Jeff Peterman, jockey. Terry's Prince, second.

8) 440 yards, Skool, :23.0, Billy Bahm, owner; Ricky McQueen, trainer; Ralph Shubert, jockey. April's Injun, second.

9) 250 yards, Omega Diana, :14.1, John Paul Amacker, owner and trainer; JoAnn Boatwright, jockey. Rocky Hill Bailey, second.

WINTER BOAT COVERS

Sheet plastic is a popular material for covering small boats that are stored outdoors during winter.

Sheet plastic comes in various thicknesses and types. Some are so thin and tear-prone that they're worthless for boat covers.

Also, you don't want the stuff labeled and sold for use as painters' drop cloths.

So, one way or another, be sure air can circulate freely through a covered-over boat.

College invites alumni

Alumni and former students of Mississippi College living in the Bay St. Louis area are invited to Homecoming 1980 planned on the Clinton campus Friday and Saturday.

Special events kick-off the Homecoming week-end Friday, including golf and tennis tournaments, plus a meeting of the National "M" Club.

Open tournaments in golf and tennis for all alumni and spouses are scheduled while "M" Club members and their spouses will compete in the A.A. Kitchings Tennis Tournament and the D.M. Nelson-Aubrey McLemore Golf Tournament.

National "M" Club members will meet at the Coliseum Ramada Inn in Jackson, with registration starting at 6:30 p.m. and the second annual banquet at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday starting with a Kung-fu event at 8 a.m. and closing out with the homecoming football game between the Choccs and Ouachita Baptist University at 4 p.m. on Robinson Field.

The crowning of the queen will take place at halftime.

Tickets for the luncheon and other events may be secured by writing to the Alumni Office, P.O. Box 4027, Clinton, MS, 39056 or calling 924-5131, Ext. 208.

"Operations and hospital rooms cost a lot more than you think."

An agency of the United Way of Hancock County

Goodwill's Bay store serves local citizens

By LEROY MODENBACK
Executive Director
Goodwill Industries
of South Mississippi

Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi is now celebrating its fourth anniversary in the Bay-Waveland area. The local Goodwill retail store will at the same time reach its fourth birthday.

Goodwill is one of 15 recipient agencies of the Hancock County United Way.

Most of us have heard of Goodwill and know that it is part of our community, but perhaps many do not know that the purpose of Goodwill is to provide jobs and job training to the handicapped.

Through Goodwill's program of collection, repair and sale of donated items, physically, emotionally, and mentally disabled individuals are enabled to earn income and become more self-sufficient.

A direct result of this program is the availability of good merchandise to the public at bargain prices. This is the rationale behind Goodwill's motto, 'Aid to the handicapped and bargains to the thrifty.'

Goodwill operates in many ways just like a small business. Through its transportation, production and sales aspects needed income is generated to provide wages program of site improvement at the collection boxes, by general cleanup utilizing a gasoline powered weed

Couches are upholstered, clothes and small articles sorted and priced, small and large appliances and TV's repaired, and furniture is reconstructed. In general, what can be refurbished is refurbished. The labor is provided by the disabled.

The repaired merchandise is transported to Goodwill retail outlets in Bay St. Louis, Gulfport and Biloxi.

Goodwill in the Bay is fortunate to have the services of Angie Morreale as manager, Frances Compretta and Rosa Lee Benigno as her assistants, and Retired Senior Volunteer Program Worker Mildred O'Rourke.

Under Angie's capable leadership the growth and development of the Goodwill store in the Bay has been steady - providing bargains and service to its customers and needed revenue to the Goodwill program.

In all its efforts on behalf of the handicapped and the community of the Bay-Waveland area, Goodwill has been assisted by the United Way of Hancock County.

With capable leadership and good friends, Goodwill will continue to prosper in its work with the disabled.

to the disabled plus business overhead.

The process starts at the homes of individual donors or the familiar yellow collection box sites.

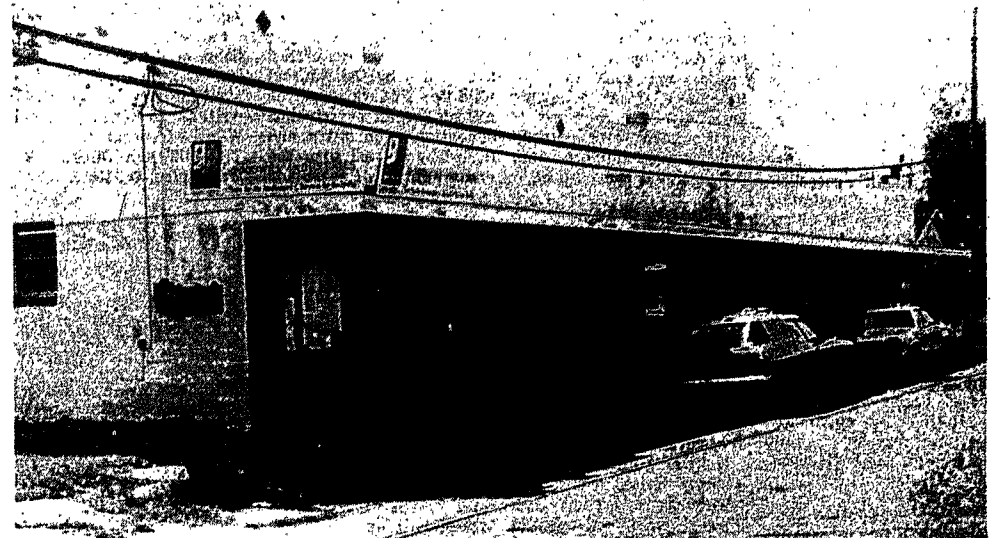

The yellow collection box locations are provided gratis through the generosity of local property owners' merchants.

Goodwill recently began a trimmer and concrete slabs for the boxes, and general painting. These collection boxes provide a very 'cost effective' way to get donations.

The donations received at individual homes and boxes are brought to the main Goodwill plant in Gulfport for processing.

BAY ST. LOUIS STORE—Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi, Inc.'s Bay St. Louis store is located at 211 Necaise St. The local store serves Hancock County and sells a variety of new and second-hand clothing, lamps, small appliances and toys. Goodwill is partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County.

Slabs were recently poured at all collection locations providing a level base for the containers.

Booklet gives answers about chemical dumps

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has estimated that there may be as many as 50,000 hazardous dump sites located around the country.

A free publication from the National Wildlife Federation, 'The Toxic Substances Dilemma: A Plan for Citizen Action,' will give some answers to that problem.

The book outlines step-by-step procedures for the average citizen.

The 123-page manual, which is illustrated with photographs, charts, and graphs, begins with the basics (definitions of chemicals, toxic substances, and pollutants) then discusses their risks and effects.

Federal and state laws controlling toxics are explained and a case study in New Jersey is presented to illustrate how effective citizen action can be.

The National Wildlife Federation 'how-to' book also provides instructions to help citizens obtain information, find local support, use the media, and push for enforcement of anti-pollution laws.

"It's hard work getting information, support, and action. But it can be done," the handbook concludes.

The book was researched and written by the National Wildlife Federation, the nation's largest conservation education organization, and funded by a grant from Environmental Protection Agency.

Single copies of 'The Toxic Substances Dilemma: A Plan for Citizen Action' are available free of charge by writing to The National Wildlife Federation, Dept. TD, 1412 16th Street, NW, Washington, DC 20038.

Government offers free shrubbery information

Homeowners can receive free information on planting and caring for azaleas and rhododendrons.

Rules are fully explained in a newly revised publication, 'Growing Azaleas and Rhododendrons,' just released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Science and Education Administration.

"The key is to plant the right varieties for your area, maintain the right soil acidity, and protect the plants from insects and diseases," a department spokesman says.

"Our publication covers how to do this in detail, and provides information on mulching, weeding, watering, fertilizing, and pruning for total plant care," the spokesman adds.

The publication is co-authored by Erik A. Newmann, curator of education at the U.S. National Arboretum in Washington, D.C., and Ralph E. Webb, entomologist at the Agricultural Research Center in Beltsville, Md.

For a free copy of 'Growing Azaleas and Rhododendrons,' Home and Garden Bulletin 71, write the U.S. Department of Agriculture, S.E.A. Publications Requests and Distribution, Room 6007, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250.

"Include your zip code with your address," the spokesman noted.

Governors' groups appoint Winter to committees

Mississippi Governor William Winter has been recently named as one of three governors on the newly-created Committee on State Executive - Legislative Cooperation of the Southern Governors' Association.

Winter has also been named to the Agriculture Transportation Task Force of the National Governors' Association.

Joining Winter on the Southern Governors' Association panel are Governors Richard Riley of South Carolina, Lamar Alexander of Tennessee, and three as yet unannounced southern legislators.

During a recent meeting of the Southern Governors' Association in Williamsburg, Va., Winter urged his fellow southern governors to establish closer liaison with state legislators and U.S. Congressmen in the work and deliberations of the Southern Governors' Association.

Winter told the other governors the SGA could substantially increase its effectiveness by including legislators as partners in the work and discussions of the conference.

Winter will also serve with South Dakota Governor William Janklow, chairman of the National Governors' Association Agriculture Committee, and other governors on the Agriculture Transportation Task Force.

"The task force will examine financing mechanisms for solving agricultural transportation needs in the areas of rail, water, interstate highways, and rural secondary roads. The task force will also explore ways of maximizing federal and state appropriations and a variety of ways of solving agricultural transportation problems," Winter explained.

In accepting the appointment to the task force, the Mississippi governor said, "Serving on this committee will enable me to gain greater insight into ways of solving many of the transportation problems we face in Mississippi as they relate to agriculture. Since our state's economy is largely based upon agriculture and agriculture-related industries, finding ways of funding a viable transportation system which includes rail lines, highways, waterways, and secondary roads is of special importance to Mississippians.

"I have worked hard to develop the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway and to save rail lines that had been scheduled for abandonment. As this task force comes to grips with the transportation needs of our agricultural community, it should result in many direct benefits to the Mississippi economy which is especially dependent on the transportation of agricultural products," Winter stated.

Winter said solving problems in agricultural transportation ties in closely with the central thrust of his economic development program, which is developing and expanding export markets for 'state-grown' products.

"By significantly expanding our export market we can bring greater stability and prosperity to all facets of the Mississippi agricultural economy," Winter said.

"As part of my effort to develop export markets, I met recently with the Mexican ambassador to the United States in an effort to stimulate trade between Mississippi and Mexico. Mexico, as our nearest foreign neighbor,

FARMERS MARKET

The Hancock County Farmers Market is still open at the Hancock County Fairgrounds. The market has plenty of fresh produce available, such as okra, squash, tomatoes, peas, butter beans, cucumbers, turnip greens, potatoes and onions.

The market is open on Wednesday and Saturday mornings from 7:00 a.m. until Noon. If you need fresh vegetables, go by and visit the Farmers Market located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds.

WATER, MULCH SHRUBS
Landscape plants damaged and weakened by the dry weather will need additional protection in the dry autumn months. Gardeners should water these plants frequently to prevent further damage.

Most landscape shrubs are shallow rooted and can't stand up to a long drought.

Mulching is one of the best ways to prevent drought damage, and it also will protect shrubs from winter injury. Fall is a perfect time to stockpile leaves, pine straw and organic material for mulching shrubs.

Keep a three-four inch layer of mulch around the shrubs. Check areas that are mulched in the fall and in the spring, and add more mulch as the material decays.

FERMENT SILAGE

Silage should ferment for three weeks before being opened for feeding. If the silo is opened before fermentation is complete, silage losses may be considerable.

Also, milk production loss because of lower consumption of moldy silage will be much greater if the silage is fed immediately.

To make good quality silage, fill the silo fast, seal it tight and allow three weeks for fermentation.

MULCH SHRUBS

Fall is a perfect time to accumulate leaves, pine straw and organic material for mulch around the base of shrubs. Mulching is one of the best ways to prevent drought damage, and it also protects shrubs from winter injury.

Keep a three-four inch mulch layer around shrubs, adding additional mulch to replace decayed material.

Gardeners should water shrubs and landscape trees during the dry autumn months to prevent further damage from dry weather.

THE SUMMER PEAR

Pacific Mountain Bartlett pears from the Pacific Coast are often referred to as the "summer" pears. The season for all-purpose Bartletts extends from late August through November.

The Pacific Mountain Bartlett pear is pear-shaped and its skin turns from green to yellow when it ripens. This is because it absorbs the chlorophyll during the ripening process. Many Bartletts have a crimson blush. The flesh is white, fine-grained, smooth and juicy.

Fresh Pacific Mountain Bartlett pears offer nutritional value to the diet in addition to their delicious flavor. Bartletts contain a certain amount of nutrients, such as iron, phosphorus, vitamin C and B-vitamins. And they are quite high in potassium. In addition, pears are low in sodium, making them an excellent choice for those on salt-restricted diets. One medium pear contains about 100 calories.

USAGE
Fresh Bartletts are delicious served as natural - simply eaten fresh out-of-hand. They are also ideal for cooking and baking and can be incorporated into a variety of tempting entrees, salads, fruit platters, main dish accompaniments or desserts. Enjoy them as a refreshing snack, paired with wedges of your favorite cheese. Or, bake halved Bartlett pears with honey and spices to serve as an accompaniment for barbecued chicken, beef patties or pork chops.

CANNING BARTLETT PEARS

Wash, pare and core pears; halve or slice. To prevent fruit from darkening during preparation, drop into 1 gallon water containing 2 tablespoons each salt and vinegar. Drain before packing. Pack in hot, clean jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Cover with hot light syrup (1 part sugar to 2 parts water) to within 1/2 inch of top. Pears may be canned without sweetening, in their own juice, in extracted juice or in water. Sugar is not necessary to prevent spoilage. Processing times remain the same.

Seal according to manufacturer's directions. Place jars on rack in canner. Process pints 25 minutes and quarts 30 minutes in boiling water bath with boiling water two inches above jar tops. Remove jars from canner. Cool away from drafts. Remove rings from sealed jars about 12 hours.

Pears are a refreshing complement to pork and other meat. Pork chops and sunny pears simmer in a ginger-flavored sauce in this skillet entree.

PEARS AND PORK

6 pork loin chops, 3/4 to 1-inch thick
Salt and Pepper
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1/4 cup each lemon juice, water and soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

3 fresh Pacific Mountain Bartlett pears, halved and cored

Trim excess fat from pork chops. Brown pork chops on both sides in fat trimmed from chops; drain excess fat. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Combine brown sugar, lemon juice, water, soy sauce and ginger; pour over chops. Cover and cook over low heat about 20 minutes. Arrange pears around chops and cook 20 minutes longer or until pork is tender; baste pears occasionally with sauce in pan. Makes 6 servings.

Graham cracker crumbs help make quick work of this easy baked fruit dessert, and pears provide the marvelous flavor and juicy sweetness.

Agronomist offers soybean seed tips

A Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service agronomist reports good soybean seed next spring must start with good seed this fall.

"Many seed quality problems begin in the field," says Dr. Charles Baskin, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service agronomist.

"Seed soybeans should be harvested as soon as they reach 13 to 14 percent moisture," he reports.

"Harvesting at these moisture contents will get seed beans out of the field with minimum deterioration," Baskin says.

"Mechanical damage is minimized at these moisture contents. However, harvesting at 14 to 14 percent moisture will not prevent mechanical damage," he adds.

"Combines and handling equipment must be in good condition, properly adjusted and operated to minimize mechanical damage. Combine cylinder speeds and concave clearances should be just enough to thresh beans. These settings should be changed as field conditions change. Check the grain tank every few hours. If you are cracking beans, adjust your machine," Baskin reminds.

"Handling equipment is equally important. Most beans are handled with augers until they get to the seed processing plant. To keep mechanical damage to a minimum, augers must be in good working order. Worn bearings that allow augers to wobble and operating at high speeds will cause considerable seed damage. Augers should also be operated at as near full capacity as possible. This allows a minimum of seed to contact the metal surfaces thus reducing mechanical damage. Handling seed as few times as possible will help reduce mechanical damage also," Baskin explains.

"Harvest seed fields first even if you have to stop combining an earlier maturing variety and clean up your combine," Baskin says. "There is no substitute for getting seed beans out of the field as soon as possible after the moisture content has reached the point that beans can be safely stored," the agronomist states.

"Avoid weedy areas for several reasons. Weeds usually do not dry as fast as beans, especially if harvest is before frost. More green material in beans will increase seed moisture content and could cause heating. Weed seed often are difficult to remove completely when seed are cleaned," he cites.

"Purple moonflower (giant morningglory) and balloonvine are almost impossible to remove.

Mississippi officials offer cattlemen aid

Officials of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture, Commerce, and the state office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, and the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association, are seeking more liberalized cost sharing government assistance and additional funds for temporary winter grazing crops by cattle producers in Mississippi.

"These efforts have led to benefits which may help some cattlemen to stay in business and provide food for their herds during the winter months," said MDAC spokesman Charlie Shotts recently.

MDAC Commissioner Jim Buck Ross stated recently, conditions resulting from extreme drought experienced over most of the state placed some producers in a position of liquidating their herds rather than enduring the enormous expense of buying feeds through the winter and early spring months.

D. L. Triggs, state executive director of the conservation service, says, "Under the current temporary grazing program, the law does not allow Agricultural Conservation Program funds to be used in sharing the cost of fertilizer and land preparation, but it does allow cost sharing for seed and seedling."

To provide for more example, payments on seed the seedling operation for ryegrass could be up to $6.05 per acre, while for wheat the allowance could reach $9.85 per acre. Differences in the allowance for seed and the rate of planting make the difference," he explained.

R. O. Buckley of the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association said recently the 80 percent allowance in cost sharing of seed and seedling would make it easier for many producers to retain their herds, even without allowable assistance for land preparation and fertilizer.

Triggs said funds for this practice must come from the regular program allocation for each county and such funds are limited in most counties.

assistance to farmers, the state ASCS Committee has increased the rate of cost sharing 50-60 percent for seed and approved cost sharing for seedling at the same rate.

"Under the temporary grazing program, not associated with the emergency feed and grain program now in effect in specified disaster drought counties, all counties are eligible for participation," Shotts reported.

"At the rate of 60 percent, cost sharing payments will vary according to the kind of grazing crop planted. For

Coast fair featuring Air Force dog corps

The Keesler Air Force Base Security Police Canine Demonstration Team will perform at the Gulf Coast State Fair and Exposition at 5 p.m. Oct. 22 and at 3:30 p.m. Oct. 25.

S. Sgt. Clyde H. Futch, non-commissioned officer in charge of Keesler's military working dogs will demonstrate attack, narcotics and detection procedures, and upkeep training. The demonstration will be in the outdoor stage area, adjacent to an "Oktoberfest."

"The canine corps concept was initiated at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas in the mid-60's, and today is headquarters for all branches of military services," says Publicity Director Gus Anderson.

RIBBON CUTTING—The Attie, located next door to the Dixie Bakery on Coleman Avenue in Wayland, held its grand opening this past Monday. The shop offers classes in liquid embroidery, macrame, decoupage, and ceramics. They also sell hand-made items on consignment. Thelma Dickson and

Services for handicapped facing statewide reduction

State Superintendent of Education Dr. Charles Holladay said recently he anticipates the State Department of Education will provide services to fewer handicapped persons next year.

"Because of reduced federal appropriations, rising costs and staff reductions, we expect a significant decrease in the number of handicapped Mississippians we'll be able to serve over the next 12 months," Holladay said.

"Last year we provided rehabilitation services to over 25,000 persons, more than 6,000 of whom were successfully rehabilitated," John Webb said, assistant state superintendent of education. Webb, who is director of the department's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, said his division is predicting those figures will drop by one-third.

"As things stand now, we don't see how we'll be able to help any more than 17,000 handicapped persons, with about 4,000 of those being considered rehabilitated," Webb reported.

Vocational Rehabilitation is a state-federal program responsible for serving working-aged handicapped persons.

Webb said Vocational rehabilitation considers a person rehabilitated only after that person is successfully employed.

Webb explained Congress has failed to appropriate the full amount of money rehabilitation agencies are entitled to under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

"This means we can't serve all handicapped persons who qualify for our services. When this happens, we are forced by the Rehab Act to institute an 'Order of Selection' when accepting clients," the director noted.

"This 'order of selection' was put into effect October 1. Under it, the law specifies that severely handicapped individuals must have first priority for services," Webb reported.

"We welcome working with the severely handicapped because they need us most, but their rehabilitation takes longer and costs more. That's why we anticipate the lower figures on the number of people served and rehabilitated," he stated. "Anytime there is even one handicapped person we can't help, it hurts. We're talking about nearly 8,000 Mississippians whom we won't be able to help, and it hurts even more when we consider that more than 2,000 of these could have become independent productive citizens by getting jobs," Webb concluded.

New state tourism

assistant announced

Al Elmore has been named assistant director of the Division of Tourism, Mississippi Department of Economic Development in Jackson.

"In his new position he will be responsible for office operations and will assist the director in policy, program and budget operations," said department spokesman Ginger Ditto.

Elmore is a native of Goldsboro, N.C., and is a 1976 graduate of the University of Arkansas at Little Rock where he received a BBA degree with a major in economics and finance.

He was formerly program officer for the Ozarks Regional Commission in Little Rock where he directed a tourism program for a five-state area and also served in the U.S. Air Force for eight years.

Elmore is married to the former Elaine McCarther of Little Rock.

GOOD ANY WAY YOU SLICE IT.

And we guarantee it.

When you choose produce, demand the very best. Sometimes a cheaper price means cheaper quality—undersize avocados, limp heads of lettuce, smaller grapes that are less plump, sweet and juicy. And that's no bargain.

But the quality is never cheap at Jitney. It's always up to our high standards...and yours. "The highest possible quality at the lowest possible price." That's how we define excellent value in fresh produce.
